Excellent house in Dorcol, near the church of Aleksandar Nevski, next to the Museum of Science and Technology. A quiet part of the street, in the immediate vicinity of green market, a busy boulevard, while the pedestrian zone is only a 10-minute easy walk away. The house has a common yard, and a separate garage at street level is available for an additional fee. It consists of three apartments, one on each level. On the ground floor there is one bedroom apartment with a separate entrance, and next to it is a corridor with a staircase, which connects the other two levels. There is a two bedroom apartment with a terrace on the first floor, and a spacious one bedroom apartment in the attic. Each apartment has a bathroom with a shower cabin and everything has been renovated and equipped with new, modern furniture. There are inverter air conditioners everywhere, so the costs are also very decent, per consumption. Ideal for a family with adult children, who want separate units, but they are together. Also for young couples or colleagues, a good choice in a great location.
